Jikes my necklace is choking me!

To these stars, the neck isn't an erogenous zone to be shown. They bury theirs in bulky chokers! "Daryl Hannah's choker is like a bicycle chain wrapped around her neck," says style guru Montgomery Frazier. "A slinky slip dress like Daryl's requires something long, like a drop pendant."

how they wear chokers without being strangled

Two tones look young ASHLEY JUDD's pearls are worn in a contemporary way: "Black and white, not too tight, not too long and in two strands," Frazier says. "So modern."

Color makes it pop
JAMIE-LYNN DISCALA's blue strands play off her eye shadow. Says Frazier, "It's fresh against the tousled mane and a crisp white tuxedo jacket."

Ladylike strands
EVA HERZIGOVA's choker, paired with the diamond necklace, flatters her plunging neckline. "It's not overpowering," Frazier says. "It's romantic."
